LEAGUE COMES BACK SHARPLY AFTER TUCKER

Continued from Page One—Column 1.1 passage of such a law, but Mr. Tucker has declared that in such an election he would vote 'wet.' It is manifest, therefore, that when Mr. Tucker declares that he agrees with what he understands to be the policy of the league on this question, he is mistaken in his interpretation of that policy.

Concerning Ris Attack.

In his interpretation of that policy.

Concerning Ris Attack.

"The committee does not think it necessary to defend itself against the reflections made by Mr. Tucker upon its 'good faith' and 'sincerliy.' The members of the committee are known to some extent to the people of the State, and have been selected by the temperance people to represent them. They have not written a line that warrants the insulting language in the attack made by Mr. Tucker upon their sincerity, and they leave it to the fair-minded people of Virginia to read the facts as here presented and determine for themselves whether the committee has not been courteous, frank and fair in its treatment of Mr. Tucker, and whether there is any justification for his attack upon the justification for his attack upon the committee," for the Byrd bill, to which this amendment was offered, do not think that I avoided a vote on that amendment. If I am mistaken, let your committee so state to the public.

Under the Byrd law itself, although my opponent seeks, in his speeches, to make the contrary appear, liquor cannot be sold on Pullman or dining cars. This amendment was designed to permit, and not to prevent, as Mr. Tucker erroneously states, the sale of liquor on such cars. It was offered by one of the four Senators who voted against the Byrd law. This proposition came up, not as a bill on the calendar, but as an amendment without notice to a pending bill, and I did not know when the vote was being taken, or that it had been taken, until after the amendment had been defeated by a tie vote; hence, I am not recorded as voting either for or against it. Had I known, I would have voted against it. The statement my opponent has frequently made in this connection, that I was at the time Liquor in Pullman Cars.

In connection with my legislative record, I wish to say that a very industrious effort has been made on the part of my opponent to make it appear that I purposely avoided voting on the Folkes amendment in reference to the sale of liquor on Pullman and alining cars. I have stated that the members of your legislative committee, who were in Richmond fighting for the Byrd bill, to which this amendment was offered, do not think that a worded a vote on that a mendothat I avoided a vote on that a mendothat I avoided a vote on that amendent has a mendoned for the part of the State Corporations having failed for two successive years to pay the annual registration fees due by such several corporations, after having been duly assessed therefor for the years 1907 and 1908, and such failure having continued for initial values of the Commonwealth of Virginia, the charters of such domestic corporations and laws of the Commonwealth of Virginia, the charters of such domestic corporations are revoked and annualled, and the fact of such revocation and annulment is by the State Corporation Commission.
